DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's argument with respect to claims 1-8, 10-20, and 22-25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-8, 10-20, and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Herrero et al. (U.S.Pub-20050009520).

Regarding claim 1, Herrero teaches a method in a communication system wherein a subscription is associated with a plurality of public and private identities (abstract) the method comprising:

storing in a user information storage information of relations between the plurality of public and private identities (user's profile) (abstract, paragraph 0078-0079) and of a control entity in which at least one of the identities is registered (paragraph 0022, 0044-0050); allocating the control entity to a further registration based on the information stored in the user information storage (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092), and recognizing at the user information storage that different private identities associate with a common service profile (fig.3, and 6-7, paragraph 0088, 0093-0094).

Regarding claim 2, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 1, further comprising:

querying by a further control entity for a registration status of a user from the user information storage (paragraph 0064-0069); and responding to the query by returning routing information which enables routing of a registration request to the control entity (paragraph 0013, 0075-0076).

Regarding claim 3, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 2, wherein the querying comprises querying by the further control entity which comprises an interrogating call state control function (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092) and the control entity comprises a servicing call state control function (paragraph 0013, 0075-0076).

Regarding claim 4, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 2, wherein the responding comprises responding to the query by returning the routing information which enables routing to the control entity (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092) and comprises a name of the control entity (paragraph 0013, 0075-0076).

Regarding claim 5, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 2, wherein the responding comprises responding to the query by returning the routing information which enables routing to the control entity (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092) and comprises an address of the control entity (paragraph 0013, 0075-0076).

Regarding claim 6, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 1, further comprising selecting at the user information storage the control entity to be allocated for the further registration (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092).

Regarding claim 7, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 1, further comprising recognizing at the user information storage that the user has an existing registration (fig.3, and 6-7, paragraph 0088, 0093-0094).

Regarding claim 8, Herrero teaches a method as claimed in claim 1, further comprising recognizing at the user information storage that different private identities associated with a common public identity are associated with a subscription (fig.3, and 6-7, paragraph 0088, 0093-0094).

Regarding claim 10, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 1, further comprising recognizing at the user information storage that different private identities associate with a common subscription (fig.3, and 6-7, paragraph 0088, 0093-0094).

Regarding claim 11, Herrero teaches the method as claimed in claim 1, wherein the storing comprises storing in the user information storage which comprises a home subscriber server (HLR) (fig.3, and 6-7, paragraph 0088, 0093-0094).

Regarding claim 12, Herrero teaches a communication system (abstract) comprising:

a plurality of control entities (abstract);

a user information storage configured to store information of relations between public and private identities associated with users of a communication system (user's profile) (abstract, paragraph 0078-0079) and of a control entity in which at least one of the public and private identities is registered (paragraph 0022, 0044-0050); and an allocating unit configured to allocate a call control entity to a further registration associated with a user based on the information stored in the user information storage (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092); and a recognizing unit configured to recognize at the user information storage that different private identities associate with a common service profile (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092).

Regarding claim 13, Herrero teaches a user information storage entity for a communication system, the user information storage entity (abstract) comprising:

Art Unit: 2617

a storing unit configured to store information of relations between public and private identities associated with users of a communication system (user's profile) (abstract, paragraph 0078-0079) and of a control entity in which at least one of the public and private identities is registered (paragraph 0022, 0044-0050);

an allocating unit configured to allocate the call control entity to a further registration associated with a user based on the information stored in the user information storage (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092); and

a recognizing unit configured to recognize at the user information storage that different private identities associate with a common service profile (fig.3, and 6-7, abstract, paragraph 0076-0079, 0092).

Regarding claim 14 is rejected with the same reasons set forth in clam 2.
